Blazer Totaled In One Auto Accident

Crawford County Sheriff deputies responded to the first accident of the July 4th weekend at 3:01 p.m. Friday, June 30. The accident occurred when a Chevy S-10 Blazer, driven by a 39-year-old man from Goodrich, left the northbound lane of the I-75 expressway just north of Cheney Road, skidded back on the road and rolled across the asphalt into the other ditch. The Blazer was totaled, as was the trailer being pulled behind it and the garden tractor on the trailer.

Sheriff deputies reported the driver was operating his vehicle carelessly at a high rate of speed when he lost control.

The driver was treated for cuts by a passerby and was later transported to Mercy Hospital by the Crawford County Ambulance Corps. Following the man's release from Mercy Hospital, sheriff deputies took him into custody for operating a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. He was also charged with possession of marijuana.

The man was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the accident.

Area Visitor Pulled From AuSable River

An 80-year-old Grosse Pointe Park resident nearly drowned Sunday, July 2, when she apparently fell off the bank into the AuSable River near McMasters Bridge.

A passing canoeist found Phyllis Waggoner floating face down in the water. The canoeist pulled Waggoner from the water and administered CPR and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Waggoner was revived at the scene and transported to Mercy Hospital by Northern Michigan EMS and the Crawford Co. Ambulance Corps when Northern's ambulance broke down. She was later air transferred by Northflight to Munson Medical Center in Traverse City.

As of Monday, July 3, Waggoner was still listed in critical condition.

Camp Shawono Youth Steals Automobile

A Shawono Center juvenile walkway stole a car parked outside a Frederic business on Wednesday, June 28, and drove it to Mecosta County, where an area resident observed the youth and called police.

Two plainclothes officers apprehended the juvenile without incident and recovered the vehicle.

Larkin Baker, of Frederic, owner of the car, discovered his car was missing on the morning of June 29.

Extra Public Meeting Scheduled For E.I.S.

An additional public hearing for comments on a draft Environmental Impact Statement for Camp Grayling will be held Saturday, July 22, at 10 a.m. at the Grayling High School auditorium.

The Department of Military Affairs scheduled the additional meeting to accommodate individuals unable to attend two mid-week meetings held previously. The deadline for submitting written comments has also been extended to July 31.

City Reminds Residents About Curbside Pickup

Residential refuse in the city of Grayling should be placed on the curbside no earlier than Sunday evening for Monday pickup. The household garbage should be put out no later than 8 a.m. Monday.

Brush should be placed in a separate pile and should be cut into pieces one person can handle. Brush should be put out Sunday night to Monday night. A city crew will usually chip the brush on Tuesday.

Appliances, grass clippings, and leaves may be placed on the curb along with the household garbage. For special items call the city office, 348-2131.

DNR Says More Info Needed For Camp's EIS

A draft Environmental Statement (EIS) for Camp Grayling is deficient and needs a great deal of improvement before being finished, says DNR Director David F. Hales.

"We are especially concerned that specific details regarding proposed activities, environmental impact analysis of those activities, and determinations of feasible or prudent alternatives are lacking in the draft EIS," said Hales in a letter dated June 13 to Major General Vernon J. Andrews, Adjutant General of the Dept. of Military Affairs.

Hales outlined 10 areas of concern and suggested a meeting for key individuals from both departments.

Andrews has agreed to arrange a meeting and, in a letter written June 22 to Hales, said:

"As you know, the EIS process is a long and complicated one and the purpose of the Draft is to surface issues and concerns that can be addressed in the process."

"We extended the period for public oral, as well as written, comments long past the required statutory period of 30 days and should receive comments from many groups and individuals on or before July 1."

"At that time, we will focus in on the various issues that have been raised and the company that prepared the Draft EIS for the National Guard Bureau will analyze these comments and study them and respond accordingly...."

Andrews said they have already started reviewing the DNR concerns and he assured Hales they will have an appropriate response for each one.

The DNR felt additional information was needed for the EIS in these ten areas:

National Guard Hosts Air Show July 8th

On Saturday, July 8, a combination Air Show and Open House will be held on Camp Grayling's air-to-ground firing range in southern Otsego County. The public is invited to watch demonstration flights, displays of aircraft, and to witness combat missions by fighter aircraft.

Air National Guard units from Wisconsin, Ohio, and Michigan will bring several types of airplanes and helicopters to the show. The A-7 Corsair, OA-37 Dragonfly, F-4 Phantom, A-10, and C-130 Hercules transport are scheduled to demonstrate their flight characteristics, as well as demonstrate strafing and bombing runs, together with helicopter rescue. The planes will drop practice bombs and fire simulated missiles.

The Army National Guard from Camp Grayling will aid with ground displays and support services. Recruiting teams of both services will provide posters, handouts, and information. Refreshments will be available through Gaylord and Grayling Kiwanis Clubs.

According to MAJ Terry McKenna, Range Officer of the air-to-ground range, the best route to the range is to exit I-75, (North or South) at Waters. Then travel east on Marlette Road, to the end of the pavement. Continue to follow signs one and one-half miles east to the range road. Civil Air Patrol members will direct parking.

McKenna encourages families to attend between the hours of 10:00 AM and 3:00 PM. Bring a blanket or lawn chairs for seating. No admission will be charged.

For additional information call MAJ Foehl at (517) 348-3708.

Director Says Volunteer Ambulance Days Gone

"The days of volunteer ambulance services are passed," said Tony Doremire, Director of the Crawford County Ambulance Corps (CCAC).

The CCAC was started as a volunteer service to meet the needs of the county, and it has been in existence for 15 years. But Doremire explained that the increased number of ambulance runs (85 total runs the first year to an anticipated 600 runs in 1989), state regulations requiring 24-hour, 7-day-a-week services, and competition from Northern Michigan EMS have made operating a volunteer ambulance service impossible for Crawford County.

FEES

CCAC fees for county residents are $195 base rate plus $3.50 per mile; non-resident fees are $230 base rate plus $3.50 mileage. Mileage is charged for a round trip. Other charges include a $12 fee for oxygen on local runs and $25 for transfer runs. Resident transfer fees are $195 plus $4 a loaded mile. Non-resident transfer fees are $230 plus $4 a loaded mile.

The CCAC has a "no patient, no fee" policy. This means if an ambulance is called to an accident scene, fire, or any type of emergency and no one requires transportation to a hospital, there is no bill. This policy is also in effect when an ambulance is on stand-by duty at a parade, sporting event, or community activity.

24-HOUR REQUIREMENT

CCAC has been offering a 16-hour-per-day manned service and an on-call-by-pagers service from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. The response time during the on-call shift was approximately seven minutes.

At the June meeting of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, Doremire told them he could no longer provide the personnel necessary for the on-call shift, and he would either have to offer a 24-hour manned service or be in violation of state requirements calling for 24-hour, seven-days-a-week service.

CCAC has two ambulances and employs two fulltime licensed Basic Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) and 10 part-time licensed Basic EMTs.

"Regardless of the degree of staff training, ambulance services, by law, can only provide basic life support care to patients," Doremire said. He said his staff is qualified to provide the maximum emergency care allowed.

The CCAC is in financial trouble because of uncollectible bills, and because there is a 30 to 60 day wait for payment from insurance companies. CCAC has approximately $30,400 in unpaid bills.

"We do not have anyone guaranteeing to pay the difference between what we charge and what we are able to collect," said Doremire, "and so far, I have not figured out a way to make people who have no money pay their ambulance bill."

In contrast, Northern Michigan EMS is currently negotiating a contract with Denton, Roscommon, and Lake Townships in Roscommon County to guarantee up to $93,000 for its uncollected bills.

NORTHERN MICHIGAN EMS

Northern Michigan EMS (NMEMS) has been located in Crawford County since July, 1985. Before NMEMS established a fulltime office in Crawford County, it was contacted by Mercy Hospital in Grayling to make several downstate transfers. Greg Wagner, vice-president of NMEMS, said that CCAC was not able to make long distance transfers at that time, so NMEMS, a Jackson-based ambulance service, opened an office in Grayling for these long distance transfers. Later NMEMS expanded its service to include emergency runs because of an increased number of emergency calls.

In June, 1987, NMEMS was purchased by Dan Heard of Higgins Lake.

NMEMS fees for Crawford County runs are $195 base rate and $3.75 per loaded mile. This means mileage is only charged when there is a patient in the ambulance. The rates are the same for both

A WATERMELON DAY — A hot afternoon Saturday during July 4th celebrations made it a perfect day to enjoy the free watermelon given away in the city park. Here the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, of Grayling, tastes the cool watermelon.

Wastewater Treatment System — The DNR felt it was not clear how wastewater from new housing for 800 persons at the airport would be handled. They also felt the draft EIS fails to detail winter sludge management at the main camp. The proposed wastewater treatment calls for spray irrigation of treated water over 40 acres a week for use during the six warm months of the year.

Assault Landing Strip — The DNR felt several environmental impacts connected with the construction area of 4,200 by 80 feet were not addressed.

Cold Weather Training — The DNR thought no analysis was included to determine impact of heavy troop activity.

Noise — The DNR felt noise reduction or mitigation proposals are needed in the EIS as well as impact information of year-round noise on wildlife, humans, and tourism.

Railroad Spur — The DNR said none of the environmental impacts of a proposed 5½ miles of railroad track from Four Mile Road to the main camp have been addressed.

Heavy Metals in Soils and Groundwater — The DNR said it continues to have concerns about heavy metals and toxins in range areas. (This comment was written by the DNR before the "Barnes Lake" study was released.)

Hazardous Waste — The DNR said the EIS needs to address the method of disposal for unexploded ordnances.

Solid Waste — The DNR felt the EIS does not address recycling in all waste management plans, which is a requirement of the state's solid waste management plan.

Wetlands — The DNR felt no assessment has been made concerning wetland impacts such as with proposed activities crossing rivers.

Socioeconomics Impacts — The DNR felt more information was needed concerning the impact of increased traffic, year-round noise, potential shipping of toxic or hazardous material by rail, light pollution during nighttime exercises, increased pressure on roads, hospitals, police, and fire personnel, and future land use.

residents and non-residents. NMEMS offers a mileage discount for long distance trips.

NMEMS also has a "no patient, no fee" policy and does not charge for standby duty. NMEMS will standby only when an emergency call is received. NMEMS also offered a contracted standby service where an ambulance presence is required. There is a fee for this service.

TWO AMBULANCES

NMEMS has two ambulances. One ambulance is considered fulltime and is manned 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Wagner said it has been a company policy since March 1st that the fulltime ambulance is staffed by a licensed para-medic and a licensed Basic EMT, which exceeds state of Michigan minimum requirements. Wagner said having a licensed para-medic in the patient compartment is equal to 500 hours of additional training available to the patient.

The second ambulance is considered parttime and is manned 12 hours a day with the remaining 12 covered by on-call-with-pagers staff. Wagner said the response time for on-call staff is approximately 2 minutes because most of their staff live away from the Grayling area and spend their on-call time at the station.

According to Wagner, NMEMS has collection problems like every business does, but attributes their aggressive collection practices for their financial situation. Wagner said NMEMS offers a 5 percent discount for payment within 10 days of service. He said they are also willing to work with former patients to set up a payment plan satisfactory with both parties. Wagner said NMEMS uses the assistance of a collection agency and, when all else fails, has resorted to the use of Small Claims Court.

Heard has stated previously that if CCAC goes out of business, he does not believe it will be necessary to raise current rates or ask for guarantees from Crawford County governmental agencies.

"Competition is not necessarily beneficial to ambulance services," explained Heard, "because in order to compete, the quality of services decline." Heard said the more runs an ambulance can make, the less each run costs.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

This week I received a letter containing a ladies Elgin wristwatch. The note that accompanied it explained that it had been found at the ski park by a man fifty years ago. The watch was new at that time. It is engraved on the back with the initials S.B.L. and the date 1-26-39. Do you know who lost that watch? The lady that sent it to me was given the watch by the man who found it and would like to have it returned to the rightful owner. If you can help me find her please give me a call at 348-8308 Joe Murphy.

With the help of some of the old-time residents, I am going to try to turn the clock back fifty years and pretend I have just gotten off the morning train down at the depot. There is some time to kill so I am going to take a ramble down main street (Michigan Avenue). After I pass the Shoppenagon Hotel, I stop in Blackie's Tavern to ease my thirst a little. Next comes Dad Hanson's Sporting Goods Store, then on to Frank Bennett's Cafe for some coffee and doughnuts and maybe a little talk.

When I leave Frank's, I decide to stop next door at Tony Gross's Barber Shop for a haircut and try to kill a little more time visiting with the good people of Grayling. Leaving the barber shop I pass Johnnie Johnson's Furniture Store. Now, I have to cross U.S. 27, which is very busy. It is the main route, north and south, traffic is heavy even though it is a week day morning. I'm going to stop in Mable's Store and look around--buy a few little things, like handkerchiefs and socks. As it is getting near noon, I hurry past Lucille Cliff's Dress Shop, to the Grayling Restaurant for some lunch and a chat with the owner, Jess Bobenmoyer. Leaving the restaurant, I stop into Krause's Dime Store, for some new shoe laces. I have to hurry now, if I am going to see the rest of the street before train time, past Sale's Dime Store, Burn's Gamble Store and into Dawson's to get some smokes, on past Olson's Shoe Store and Olson's Drug Store. I rush to cross Peninsular to see the County Courthouse and County Jail, where Jack Papendick is sheriff. It is train time so will have to do the other side of the street when I come back to town, next week.

I attended the Reception for the Ohio National Guard, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. This is a very fine project, allowing the Military to meet with the folks, and to realize that the majority of the people are firmly behind them. There is way too much self-serving criticism of the Guard, by a very vocal minority. Camp Grayling has been a real lifesaver for Grayling and Crawford County. It has provided employment, for a good many years, helping many local college students earn next year's tuition. Also, many of our local people have had very successful careers, serving in the National Guard. Sure, there are a few unfortunate incidents, each year, but that can only be expected with the number of troops training here. If you are only looking at the negative side, it can be inflated and distorted into a lot of negative information. Let's look at the National Guard and Camp Grayling, as they really are, a very positive force in our area.

Letters to the Editor

Reader Witnessed Local Train Wreck

Dear Mr. Murphy:

I read your column in the Avalanche, being a one time resident of Grayling and an Avalanche subscriber, felt I might just make a comment on your 6-15-89 column about the train wreck. I was swimming in the old swimming hole behind the roundhouse. I left for home on Maple Street with the school principal's son on the handlebars of my bike. (I think his name was Julian Smith) and when we came to the Lake Street crossing the R.R. watchman was on the tracks with his Stop sign and the train was coming toward us. I was watching the train thinking I might have to stop and wait for it. When it rolled on its side I dumped Julian from the bike and rode as fast as I could to the train and looked up into the window on the fireman's side and was shocked at what I saw. I know I was the first one at the scene. I knew Mr. Ayers and Mr. Conklin. My dad was a brakeman for Michigan Central and I road home as fast as I could to tell him about the wreck. He had to work all that night. His name was Robert Nelson Martin.

I had not thought about that wreck in an awful long time but your story sure did bring it to my mind.

Jim Abbot -- A Real Winner

TIME ONCE MORE for one of our infrequent strolls, barefoot among the potpourri....

YOU'VE GOT TO like star athlete Jim Abbott of Flint, even if you don't like baseball or the California Angels, for whom young Mr. Abbott pitches.

Jim Abbott was born without a right hand. Undeterred by this physical handicap, he went on to play quarterback on his high school football team, starred as a college pitcher at the University of Michigan, and became a regular member of the pitching rotation for the California Angels in his first year in the major leagues.

By all accounts, Jim Abbott is both a modest and level headed individual. Listen, for example, to a recent Abbott comment about being born without a right hand:

"If I could be given a right hand today, I don't think I'd do it. This is the way I've learned to pitch, and I've always believed if it ain't broken, don't fix it."

People like Jim Abbott tend to restore any faith in human nature which might have become endangered. He must be quite a guy and a good pitcher, too.

MAKING ENDS MEET -- In Chicago, according to recent news reports, government officials are having trouble making ends meet.

That's not really news in itself, but these "ends" are the opposite ends of a tunnel to connect Chicago City Hall and the State of Illinois Center in downtown Chicago.

City contractors started out from City Hall with their end of the tunnel, and state contractors started from the State Center with their end. The state's part is nine inches lower and eight inches off to one side of the city section.

Altogether it will cost about $300,000 to correct the problem, including an extra stairway and an added elevator stop.

The tunnel is expected to open in September -- four years behind schedule.

We wonder if these were the same designers or contractors who worked on Michigan's famous Zilwaukee bridge. Sounds like it.

TIME TO WORRY -- Researchers at Pennsylvania State University have come up with what seems like a good suggestion -- A special "worry period" every day.

The Penn State researchers assigned self-confessed chronic worriers a scheduled 30-minute worry period each day, using the same place and the same time each day. That's when the worriers tried to come up with solutions to the problems that made them worry. If they found themselves worrying at some other time, they were supposed to postpone their worry until the scheduled worry period.

This way the worriers learn to separate real problems from imagined ones; they look at the worst that could happen, and what probably would happen, then figure out if they can do anything about it, and if so, what. That helps reduce anxiety, the study found.

Makes sense to me, and it probably would help a lot of us.

A NEW PROBLEM -- And if you think you don't have anything to worry about, you probably aren't looking very hard.

For example: From Wellington, New Zealand comes a recent news story telling us that the world's biggest iceberg, believed to be about the size of Hong Kong, is slowly melting and moving in Antarctica.

The iceberg has traveled a 620-mile circle since it broke away from the Ross Ice Shelf only 18 months ago. However, the news story reported, the iceberg appears to pose no threat to shipping.

But don't you worry just a little about what's going to happen with that huge iceberg, if it keeps melting. It may pose no threat to shipping, but what about the rest of us?

When it gets to my period, I'm going to worry about that.

NUTS AND JOLTS Here are some column closers from Hod Sewell:

-- George Washington threw a dollar across the river, but today's politicians throw millions across the oceans.

-- Do Congressmen and Senators keep track of their honorariums on clipboards?

-- When a merchant says his business is stable, he may mean that it smells like one.

-- Most shoppers know exactly what they want, only nothing is made that way.

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

After teaching for more than a decade, I often wonder if I made a good career decision. Other times I have no doubts -- like the April day I received a very special graduation announcement in the mail.

Every spring brings graduation announcements. This one, however, was distinctive. It was simple -- black, doublespaced script on quality paper. Knowing the sender, I would guess that he composed it on his word processor and made copies with a laser printer. It was not a canned announcement; rather, it had been composed by the graduate. His mother told me that he had sent it to a handful of teachers who he felt had made an effect on his life.

It read, in part: "Graduation is a time for recognition and congratulations. All too often, though, the most important persons are not recognized in this major achievement. This announcement is not a request for funds or gifts. It is a gift. It is a chance for me to recognize and thank 'the most important people.'"

"Being a teacher has its rewards, but often they come few and far between. Teachers work for years, and seldom do they ever see their results; many times they are reminded of their failures. This letter is to announce that you have had a success."

The young man, a former Grayling High School student, was to graduate a few days later from Northern Michigan University with a bachelor of science degree in secondary education English and a minor in educational computer science.

His announcement continued, "Many of you who receive this letter know me. To some of you, I am a vague memory. Others may not remember me at all. But I remember you. And the work you have done for me has shaped my life into what it is today. I hope that I can affect someone else the way that you have changed me. Thank you."

You're very welcome, Paul Gary Gust. And of course I remember you. You're the kid who gave the great demonstration speech on airbrush painting in my oral communications class. You're also the good Spanish student whom I couldn't convince to take more than one year of the language.

You're the actor who played a hilarious Cornelius in our high school play, "The Matchmaker." You're the guy who wouldn't shave your head to play Daddy Warbucks in "Annie" because you didn't want to go to the Prom bald. (Although you did consent to wear a skullcap in the play). You're the practical joker who drove me to distraction during rehearsals of "Catch-22."

You're the young man who gave me a box of stationery as a gift when you graduated from high school. I used that paper for months and thought fondly of you each time I opened the box.

I am surprised, though, that you remember me as someone who was special to you. What was it that I said or did? I'd like to know, so that I can do it again, for others.

You are correct when you write that we teachers seldom see our results. Too often we have to guess at what we do right and wrong, send our students off to be adults and hope for the best.

How did you become so wise at such a young age? Possibly you already know more about the rewards and frustrations of teaching than I recognized after years in the classroom. It is good that you appear to be forward about the limitations, as well as the opportunities, that the career offers. And I am pleased to have played a role, however small, in getting you to where you are today.

Welcome to the profession, my young colleague. I hope for you many successes, such as yourself. And thank YOU for your graduation announcement. It made my day. Truthfully, it made my school year.

By Jon Thompson

Some people around town wondered if some of the bang was taken out of the Fourth of July holiday by having fireworks and other activities three days before on Saturday, July 1.

It has always struck me a bit funny when people call the Avalanche to ask what day the town is celebrating the Fourth of July. It's hard to say what day is the best to celebrate when the Fourth falls on a Tuesday, but I do know the local Grayling Youth Booster Club and other persons in Grayling who organized July 4th activities should be commended for their efforts. These people put a lot of work in raising money for fireworks and other Fourth of July events and they deserve a salute. The idea of honoring the Independence Day of our nation is a great one and it doesn't really matter when we choose to do it.

The Saturday or Tuesday celebration question for the Fourth does make you wonder, however, if our country has forgotten what holidays were created for. Most people get the day off work on July 4th to celebrate America's Independence Day. That's the reason for the day off -- to celebrate on July 4th.

I guess I'm old-fashioned about certain holidays. I like to see Veteran's Day celebrated on November 11th every year -- not on Nov. 8th or Nov. 10th. How can you tell children about the peace agreement signed on the 11th day of the 11th month at the 11th hour when the holiday is on Nov. 8th? And do children nowadays think Washington and Lincoln were born on the same day because we have a President's Day holiday honoring their birthdays on one day?

I guess I like what both of our local VFW Posts decided to do. On Tuesday, July 4th, they celebrated Independence Day with a ceremony at the Eternal Flame in front of the courthouse. I planned on being there also. There's something about celebrating Independence Day on July 4th that's still appealing.

PIPE BAND — The Sault Ste. Marie Pipe Band will march and perform in the Milltown Festival Parade on July 29.

Canadian Pipe Band Returns to Milltown

The Sault Ste. Marie Pipe Band of Canada returns to Grayling to march in the Milltown Parade on Saturday, July 29, at 3:00 p.m.

The Pipes and Drums of the 49th Field Regiment R.C.A. were formed in 1919 when a small group of enthusiastic musicians decided to practice together regularly to develop their musical abilities, as well as to pass on their skills, traditions and sense of dedication to the next generation.

As the band grew in numbers of members, its repertoire and public prominence also grew. By the late 1930's, it booked a full schedule. The members kept busy practicing, upgrading and appearing at a wide variety of functions in Canada and the United States.

World War II, however, took its toll on the group, necessitating a rebuilding program in 1946. In 1952, the band joined the 49th Regiment and became part of the Canadian militia, a role it has held continuously since then.

In the early 1960's, the Canadian band entered competitions and in 1963 was named North American champions. Some members of the award winning group remain in the band today.

The Pipe Band has enjoyed considerable success over the years and is so popular that it is often necessary to book it a year in advance of an event. The Grayling Milltown Parade committee, headed by Betty Bennett, Rose Duley and Donna Thomson, is pleased to welcome the group back for the upcoming 1989 parade.

The Band performs under the direction of Pipe Major Bob Duncan and Drum Major Bill Ross. Band members range in age from 13 to 75 years.

The Milltown Parade, featuring the Sault Ste. Marie Pipe Band, will run from Michigan Avenue in front of Mercy Hospital, turn right on Peninsular Street and end at Lake Street.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Crawford County Housing Rehabilitation and Community Development Commission will hold two public hearings, both scheduled for July 12, 1989, one at 3:30 p.m. and one at 7:00 p.m. in the Commissioners room of the Crawford County Building, purpose of the hearing is the County application to State of Michigan for: Michigan Community Development Block Grant of $200,000.00 and community involvement in MSH-DA/CHIP program.

EYE PROTECTION

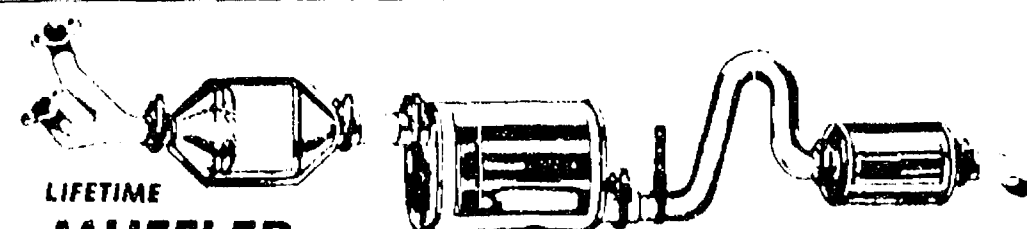

QUESTION: What amount of protection can be expected from regular dress eyewear?

ANSWER: All eyewear approved by the Food and Drug Administration must be impact-resistant. The amount of protection you can expect from these lenses is very general and dependent on the activity that you may be engaged in. Dress eyewear is treated to be impact resistant, but this does not mean they are shatter-proof or safety lenses. Safety eyewear is available in different types such as Safety Glasses with side-shields, Goggles, Face Shields, and tinted Shields or Goggles. Lenses may be made in either plastic, treated glass or polycarbonate materials. Be aware to adequately protect your eyes. The activity must be considered when choosing Safety Eyewear.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Laurie Scheer-Alton Sales Representative

Here's a baseball oddity...There are 2 current teams in major league baseball who were once BOTH known as the Washington Senators... The original Washington Senators played in the American League from 1901 to 1960, but then they moved to Minnesota in 1961 and became the Twins...Meanwhile, a new Washington Senators team was placed in the nation's capital in 1961... but then they moved to Texas in 1972 and became the Rangers...So, both the Twins and Rangers were once the Washington Senators.

Amazingly, the major league baseball All-Star game was played for 50 years before anybody hit a grand-slam home run in that game...That's surprising when you consider all the great sluggers who've played...The first All-Star game was in 1933 but nobody ever hit a grand-slam homer in any All-Star game until Fred Lynn did it in 1983.

What are the most runs ever scored in one inning by any big league baseball team in this century?...The record is 17, set by the Red Sox in the 7th inning of a game on June 18, 1953.

I bet you didn't know...that Scheer Motors in Grayling is the place to go for the three "S's" selection, savings, and service. So when thinking of the three "S's", think of a fourth, Scheer!

"For most restaurants the only risk manager you might ever need is your Independent Agent."

Here's why... You may need workers' comp, disability, property insurance, liquor liability and more. It's enough to keep a professional risk manager busy, but that's a payroll luxury few restaurants can afford. That's why so many rely upon Independent Agents for insurance advice and sound coverage. And because we represent several fine companies, you can choose the right policies at the right price, with the right service. An Independent Agent — the only risk manager you might ever need.

County Drive Begins For New Blood Center

The Crawford County Chapter of the American Red Cross announces the start-up of its local campaign to raise $25,000 for the new northern blood center. The Red Cross Blood Center, a full-service testing and blood processing laboratory, is to be constructed in Petoskey and will serve the 14 northernmost hospitals of Michigan, including Mercy Hospital of Grayling.

According to John H. "Jack" Alef, Chairman of the Crawford County Campaign, this fund drive is being conducted in Crawford and 16 other northern counties to overcome problems caused by extremely overcrowded conditions in the current Red Cross laboratory. "We want northern Michigan residents and visitors to know that blood will be available and safe when they need it," he said, "and right now, our Regional Red Cross Blood Services is not in the strongest position to give this assurance."

Serving with Alef in Crawford's Red Cross campaign is Richard T. Albee, President of Grayling State Bank; Stephanie J. Riemer, Vice-President of Administrative Services for Grayling Mercy

Hospital; Paul Thomson, President of Cornell Insurance; David B. Hanson, Commander of Camp Grayling; William Joseph, Executive Director of the American Red Cross for Crawford County; and Grenesto Quilachon, M.D., Chief Pathologist for Grayling Mercy Hospital.

"Our goal of $25,000 from Crawford County is reachable," said Alef, "if we have strong backing by this community. I feel deeply about the compelling need for a new blood center to serve our hospital here," he added. "And I know that this community wants to do its fair share to help make this project happen."

The Crawford County Campaign for the new blood center will begin this week and extend through Labor Day. The "Building the Heartbeat of the North" campaign is being conducted in all 17 counties, including the Upper Peninsula to raise $975,000 for the new blood center. The proposed new 17,000 square foot facility will have all northern blood operations, including collection, testing, processing, storage, and distribution of up to 25,500 units (pints) of whole blood annually.

A three-part campaign is planned for Crawford County, including a personal solicitation campaign among community leaders, a telemarketing campaign, and a general public campaign. All fund-raising activities will conclude by Labor Day to avoid the United Way Campaign being conducted this fall for its agencies in Crawford County.

To date, the 17-county campaign has raised $600,551 - 61.6 percent of its $975,000 goal from individuals, corporations, and foundations. The Weyerhaeuser Company foundation gave a $15,000 grant to this campaign earlier this Spring, enabling the fund drive to go well over the half-way mark.

"We have a strong leadership team that represents the entire Grayling and Crawford County community," stated Alef. "Now our job is to tell others who live and work here how this new blood center will benefit them. I can think of no greater benefit than to know that blood will be in our hospital whenever we need it. Only a successful campaign will make this happen."

Kniss Appointed To Maple Forest Position

The Maple Forest Township Board appointed Mark Kniss to the position of township supervisor to fill the vacancy left following the resignation of Edward Tobin.

Kniss received the appointment on May 9, effective May 13th, and will serve as supervisor until the November general election. Kniss said he plans to seek a full term as supervisor in November.

Edward Tobin was elected township supervisor last November but resigned his office for personal reasons, at the board's April meeting.

Kniss has been a resident of Maple Forest for two years. He and his wife, Cathy (Dasho) have three children. Before moving to Maple Forest, Kniss was affiliated with the Boardman Township Fire Dept. for 10 years.

Kniss said he has always been civic minded, and when the township supervisor position became available he decided to apply.

"I am looking forward to working with the Maple Forest Township Board," Kniss said, "and help to make Maple Forest a better place to live."

Pursuant to section 102(2)(c) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, the NGB and DMA have, acting as co-lead agencies, prepared a DEIS on the proposed Master Plan Mission/Multiple Construction at Camp Grayling, Michigan.

On July 22, 1988, a Notice of Intent to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement was published in the Federal Register. A public Scoping Meeting (in accordance with the Council on Environmental Quality Regulations (40 CFR 1500-1508) was conducted on September 8, 1988, at Grayling, Michigan to identify significant issues related to the proposed Master Plan Mission/Multiple-Construction at Camp Grayling.

Individuals with lengthy comments should be prepared to submit additional material in writing.

Due to this additional meeting, the period for written comment has been extended to July 31, 1989.

ABSTRACT:

In response to deficiencies in existing facilities and the national mandate for the increased combat readiness of the National Guard, new facilities and activities have been proposed for Camp Grayling. The proposed actions include implementation of the Camp Grayling Master Plan construction and winter training mission. The Master Plan projects involve renovation of existing facilities, and increased efficiency of training site utilization. The DEIS will address impacts of the Master Plan implementation related to air quality, noise, physical setting (soils), natural resources (vegetation and wildlife), land use, waste disposal, water resources, cultural resources, and socioeconomic.

In addition to the proposed actions, three alternatives were considered in the DEIS: No Action (status quo), Modification/Alteration of Action, Conduct actions at other locations.

The identification of preferred alternatives in the DEIS does not constitute a final decision. The DEIS and any comments received will be used by the Army National Guard to prepare a Record of Decision.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John Part No. 85

Hating Perfect Love
When the world crucified Jesus Christ they proved they hated perfect love in human form. They hated Jesus Christ because His words exposed the evil of their sins. "If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin; but now they have no cloak for their sin." (John 15:22). People like to remain comfortable in their sin. The words of Jesus Christ in Holy Scriptures uncover the wickedness of their actions, and people hate identity of sin. "And this is the condemnation, that men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved." (John 3:19,20).

The world hated Jesus Christ because he was God. They hated His person. "He that hateth me hateth my Father also." Our love or hatred for Jesus Christ reveals our love or hatred for God. "Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son." (2 John 9). There is no excuse for hating Jesus Christ because he is God.

"But this cometh to pass, that is written in their law. They hated me without a cause." (John 15:25). This hatred if often heard by those who use the name of God and Jesus Christ is cursing and swearing.

The world hated Jesus Christ because He did the works of God. "If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin; but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father." (John 15:24).

When people saw Jesus Christ, they were looking at God. While they could not see God as a spirit, they saw Him in Jesus Christ. They saw the power of God in the many miracles He performed. He healed the sick, raised the dead, calmed the seas, feed the multitudes, foretold the future, and arose from the dead. No person has even claimed to match His powerful miracles. He is "...declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead." (Rom. 1:4).

The world still hates Jesus Christ because of His person, work, and word. This is why after 2,000 years people still try to cover up the truth of the Bible concerning Christ. They do not want to admit that He is God. They do not want to admit His words expose their sin and rebellion against Him. They do not want to admit He died on a cross for sins, and arose to provide forgiveness of sins and eternal life to those who trust Him by faith.

Crawford County Ordinance No. 89-2

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF CRAWFORD, MICHIGAN FOR THE PURPOSE OF REQUIRING THE PAYMENT OF COSTS INCURRED BY THE COUNTY OF CRAWFORD IN MAKING EMERGENCY RESPONSES TO MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS AND/OR ARRESTS INVOLVING DRIVERS WHO WERE OPERATING A MOTOR VEHICLE WHILE UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AND/OR A CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE.

The County of Crawford ordains:

Section 1. PURPOSE:

The County of Crawford finds that a significant number of traffic arrests and traffic accidents in the County involve drivers who were operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcoholic beverages and/or a controlled substance. In addition, the County finds that in traffic accidents involving drivers who were operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcoholic beverages and/or a controlled substance there is a greater likelihood of personal injury and property damage. As a result of these determinations, a greater operational and/or financial burden is placed upon the Crawford County Sheriff's Department, the Crawford County Ambulance Service and other rescue services, by persons operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcoholic beverages and/or a controlled substance.

Section 2. DEFINITIONS:

USED IN THIS ORDINANCE

(a) Emergency response shall mean:

(1) The providing, sending, and/or utilizing public service, police, and rescue services by the County to an accident involving a motor vehicle where one or more of the drivers were operating the motor vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or controlled substance or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and controlled substance; or

(2) The making of a traffic stop and arrest by a police officer when the driver was operating the motor vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or controlled substance.

(b) "Expense of emergency response" shall mean the costs associated with the occurrence of an emergency response as set forth in Subsection (a) (1) or (a) (2), whichever is applicable, of this Section. The expenses of making an emergency response as set forth in Section (a) (2) of this Section shall include the costs connected with the administration, provision, and the analysis of any chemical tests and the videotaping of the driver, if applicable. These costs shall be set by resolution of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners.

Section 3:

(a) Any person who, while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any controlled substance, or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any controlled substance, operates a motor vehicle which results in an emergency response as defined in Section 2 of this Ordinance shall be responsible and/or liable for the expenses of the emergency response.

(b) For purposes of this Ordinance, it shall be presumed that a person was operating a motor vehicle under the influence of an alcoholic beverage if chemical analysis of the driver's blood, urine, or breath indicates that the amount of alcohol in the driver's blood was in excess of 0.07 percent.

Section 4:

This Ordinance shall be construed to be a responsibility and liability of a civil nature on the part of the driver and shall not be construed to conflict, contravene or enlarge or reduce any criminal liability or responsibility including fines imposed by a Judge under the Michigan Vehicle Code on a driver for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage and/or controlled substance.

Section 5:

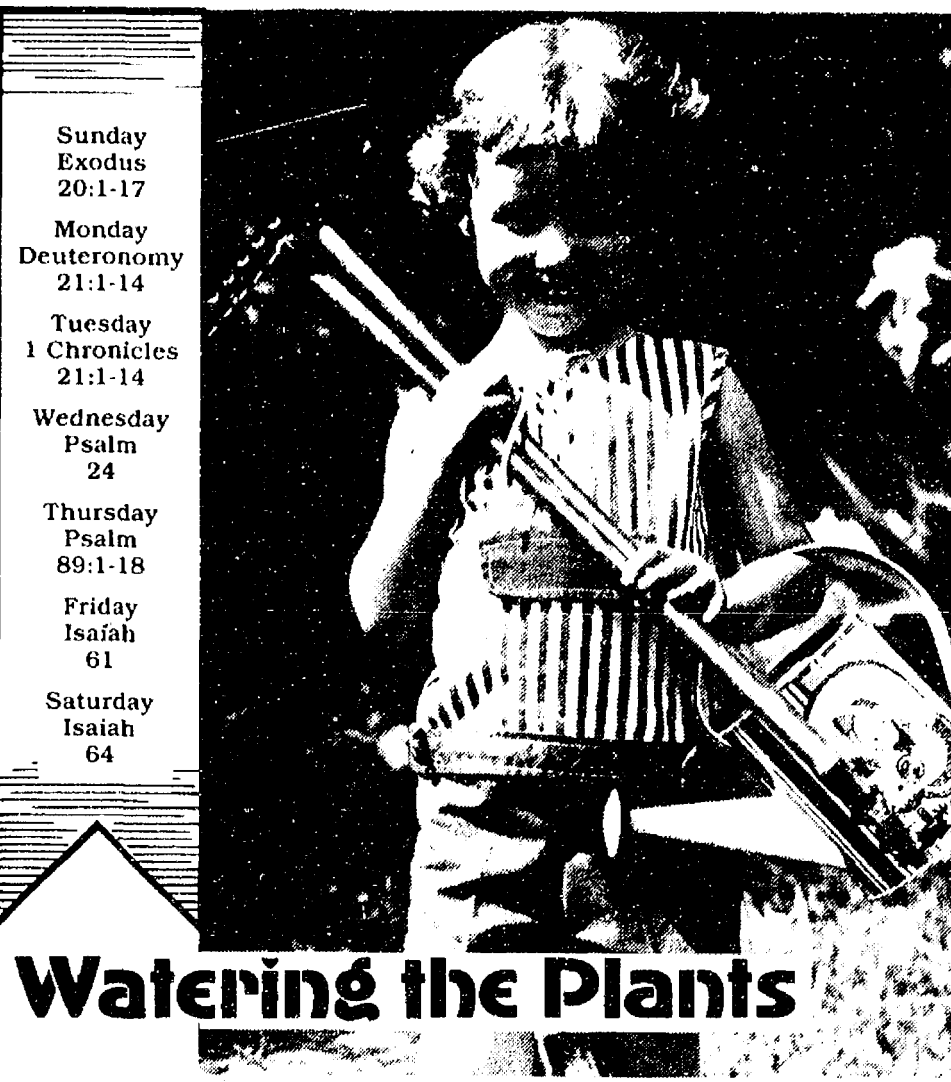

All Ordinances or part of Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

This Ordinance shall take effect when notice of the adoption is published in a newspaper of general circulation.

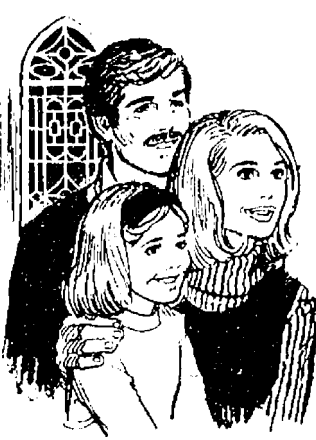

I, Elizabeth H. Wieland, Clerk of the Board of Commissioners for the County of Crawford do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and copy of the ordinance adopted by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners at a regular session held on Thursday, June 22, 1989.

Clerk/Register of Deeds Elizabeth H. Wieland

CHURCH DIRECTORY

Watering the Plants

It is one of those things we simply know. Plants must have water to survive. So, we provide regularly for their need.

Religious education is based on the same principle. The spiritual needs of a child are just as urgent and just as continual as its need for nourishment, shelter, love. As the body grows, so must the soul.

Is your family taking full advantage of the religious training the churches and synagogues of our community offer? Are you cultivating through weekly worship that spiritual vitality in your home which will encourage your children's moral and spiritual growth?

If not, why not begin today?

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The Michigan Legislature has recently passed an amendment to the Michigan Vehicle Code (our basic traffic law) which has drastically increased the penalties for the charge of fleeing and eluding a police officer.

The amended law states in part that a driver of a motor vehicle who willfully fails to obey a police or conservation officer's signal by increasing speed or otherwise attempting to elude the officer shall be punished by not less than 30 days or no more than 1 year imprisonment and fined up to $1,000.

A second conviction within 5 years is a felony with incarceration in state prison for one to four years and up to $10,000 in fines possible. It is also a felony if anyone suffers serious bodily injury resulting from such action.

In addition to jail and monetary penalties, the law stipulates that a person's operator's license shall be suspended for a period of 1 year upon conviction.

Police chases are extremely hazardous to those involved and to innocent bystanders. This law helps put the blame for such actions where it belongs - on the violator.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

School Days Memories

*If you're like me, you'd like to see
Our old Frederic school once more
Where we spent those days of childhood
Knowing our young feet once trod its floor.*

*I greatly fear I'd shed a tear
If I could visit it today
So many friends that I knew there
Over the years have passed away.*

*My eyes still see what used to be
Our old schoolhouse standing proud and tall
I can walk through it in memory
Seeing each picture on its wall.*

*Many years have passed but memories last
Of those happy childhood days
I remember the fun we used to have
When we put on our Christmas plays.*

*In memory my old eyes still see
Many scenes from long ago
Who is that old man sweeping the floor?
Why it's our janitor Mr. Rowe.*

*Why even today I can picture old Sim J.
Who was once Superintendent of our schools
He was the man we were sent to see
If we broke any of the rules.*

*I remember one day when my teacher was away
His wife taught a class or two
We sat there fascinated by her eyes
One was brown, the other blue*

*I often find in my old mind
Those memories of long ago
I still hear that old school bell ringing
As we hurried through the snow.*

*I can close my eyes and visualize
Our old play ground with its swings and slide
And there is the old merry go round
That we all loved to ride*

*The building is gone but memories linger on
Of those happy days that used to be
They tore down those walls of brick and mortar
But they can't destroy the memory.*

Poet's Corner

Ode to Innocence

It's 6:30 AM, birds are screaming, "Welcome" to a world that's half-awake.

*Spring sun dances invitingly across the hood of my car.
But, so like the others, I have no time. Not today, It's Monday.*

*The office claims me.
I travel from Michigan to Texas by phone. But, I cannot reach out and hug my baby, or smell the sunshine on her hair.*

My mind cries, "Dear God, let her understand!" While my reflexes submit to office machines and filing cabinets.

*An eternity later...
The evening quite warms my soul
as I speed toward home.*

*I see winter weeping into the ditches because her white lace dress is dirty.
And, I have carbon stains
Under my fingernails.*

GARDEN

Ornamental Grasses Used For Year-Round Planting

Ornamental grass, actually a catchall term describing all grasslike plants, such as reeds, rushes and sedges, is graceful, arching foliage, with some variegated species. But green isn't its only contribution to a landscape—rich autumn colors appear in fall and winter, and flower plumes on several species can be spectacular.

A screen for privacy. Combined with a few evergreen shrubs, pampas grass (Cortaderia selloana), zebra grass (Miscanthus sinensis zebra), and feather reed grass (Calamagrostis acutiflora 'stricta') make good screens.

Stand-alone. Most ornamental grasses make good stand-alone accent plants or focal points, especially when several species' plumes are abundant.

Ground cover. Blue fescue

(Festuca ovina glauca), a finely-textured blue-green foliage for covering small areas; and weeping lovegrass (Eragrostis curvula).

Eulalia grass (Miscanthus sinensis). A popular grass throughout the South, it reaches heights of 10 feet and bears flamboyant fruit stalks in late summer. Many cultivars exist with specific growth habits and landscape characteristics.

Plume grass (eriatius ravennae). Also called hardy pampas grass, it grows from eight to 12 feet and is silvery beige in summer and orange brown in fall.

Pink pampas grass (Cortaderia selloana 'Rendatieri'). A very showy grass with slender 24-inch leaves and silvery rose flower plumes borne from late July through October.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

Hartwick Pines Interpreter

As the summer unfolds and the tourist traffic increases, the crew of Camp Number 5 is becoming more comfortable with their roles. There are six logging players at the logging camp and each is a special person with unique talents. I would like to introduce two more of them to you.

We men on the crew not only have our roles to work with, but this year we have a laundress in camp. She is Heather Root from Gaylord who is planning on being a teacher after her graduation from Spring Arbor College. She is well versed in American history and that background is a great help in her role as an 1893 promoter of women's rights. We men wish she would go to Wyoming where the women got the right to vote three years (1890) ago.

Another member of our crew is Jon Olson of Frederic who is a 1985 graduate of the Crawford AuSable Schools and is returning to Central Michigan University this fall as a senior. Jon is continuing a family tradition, as his Grandfather Carl worked at the Pines as a ranger for many years.

There is a good crew at Camp Five and we invite you to visit this little piece of the 19th century. Take a guided hike (we are doing at least one each day) or just visit camp. There may be a familiar face and, if not, an insight into the way of life in 1893.

$200 Radio Transmitters Placed Into Trout

If you find yourself in the "no kill" area on the South Branch of the AuSable River and see a man dressed like a fisherman carrying a small black box instead of a net, and an antenna instead of a fly rod, don't panic. Instead, take a minute and introduce yourself. The strange looking fisherman is Gary Regal, a graduate student from the University of Michigan, who is spending his summer collecting specimens and data for his Master's thesis.

Regal's study, which will take two years to complete, concerns the basic habitat use, long range movement and activity cycle of the brown trout.

Regal explained that there have been several trout studies conducted in the North and South Branches of the AuSable. Two years prior to his study a similar study was conducted by Dave Clapp, another U of M graduate student, on trophy size browns, 17 inches and larger. At the time of Clapp's study it was generally believed that smaller fish could basically sit in the current and wait for food to come to them, and the larger fish had to forage for their food.

"In many ways what I am doing is a continuation of that study," Regal explained.

Regal's study is limited to brown trout 10 to 13 inches, and will compare whether the smaller fish exhibit a similar type behavior and study whether the movement of the browns correlates with their feeding behavior.

To learn the movement habits of brown trout, Regal surgically implanted a small radio transmitter into the stomach of six brown trout on May 10th. The transmitter weighs 3 grams, is about one inch in length and is light green in color resembling a giant lima bean. Each transmitter has a life expectancy of four months and emits a different signal allowing Regal to track individual fish. It also explains to spectators the black box (the radio receiver), and the antenna. Following surgery, the fish were returned to the "no kill" area of the South Branch.

In order to determine what the fish are eating, Regal utilizes a stomach pump that forces pressurized water into the mouth of the fish through the gullet into the stomach and back out through the mouth bringing with it the contents of the stomach.

"The advantage of this system is that I don't have to sacrifice the fish in order to collect stomach specimens," Regal explained.

Regal catches the fish for his research by using a D.C. backpack electro-fishing unit that momentarily stuns the fish, allowing him to collect the browns and put them into a livewell until he can extract the stomach samples. The fish are then returned to the river. Regal said his D.C. (direct current) shocking unit is not as hard on the fish as the old A.C. (alternating current) units were. He said the fish recover as soon as the current is removed from the water.

The stomach samples are placed in small pieces of cheesecloth and preserved. They will be examined when Regal returns to the university laboratory this fall.

Regal is asking fishermen to be on the look-out for the implanted fish. He said the fish can be easily identified by the black sutures in the surgical site located in front of the pelvic fins in the white of the belly. The fish should be in or near the "no kill" area of the South Branch where fishermen are required to release the fish caught. However, Regal said it is possible that the fish could move out of the protected stretch and be caught in an area of the river where keeping fish is legal. If one of the fish is caught, he is asking that the fish be returned to the river. If this is not possible, he is asking that the tiny transmitter found in the fish's belly be returned to him. Each transmitter is valued at approximately $200. Regal can be reached at the WaWaSum Lodge on the Mainstream of the AuSable by calling 348-9879. After mid-August, Regal can be contacted at the Institute for Fisheries Research, 1109 N. University, 212 Museums Annex Bldg., Ann Arbor, 48109-1084.

Dr. Rick Clark, a research biologist with the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), has been of assistance to Regal with his study, as has his university advisor, Dr. Jim Diana. Gaylord Alexander, from the DNR's Hunt Creek Station in Lewiston, has also been available with advice. Both Dr. Clark and Alexander have been involved in brown trout research.

Other agencies sponsoring Regal's study includes the Michigan Fly Fishing Club, the DNR and the University of Michigan.

Regal said he was first introduced to the AuSable River in June of 1987 when he was doing some sea lamprey control work for the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service at the Ludington station. Regal said the service treated an area below one of the dams in the Oscoda area.

"And here I am," said Regal, "back again on the AuSable and enjoying every moment."

Regal said even though he has had the opportunity to see "a little bit of the world" during a three year stint in the service following high school, he keeps returning to the Great Lakes area.

Regal grew up on the shores of Lake Erie and it was from this experience that Regal's initial interest in fisheries and aquatic ecology blossomed. After completing his formal education, Regal would like to work in fisheries research in the Great Lakes Basin.
